I had always understood "there"s no such thing as a free lunch" as a expression to demonstrate the economics concept of opportunity cost - whereby even if the lunch is fully paid for, one loses the

Through California"s SGIP program, qualified low-income homeowners can get solar + battery installed by a licensed contractor for free. You own your power -- with no monthly payments, no leases, no

I don"t think there"s any difference in meaning, although "free of charges" is much less common than "free of charge". Regarding your second question about context: given that English

A friend claims that the phrase for free is incorrect. Should we only say at no cost instead?

The fact that it was well-established long before OP"s 1930s movies is attested by this sentence in the Transactions of the Annual Meeting from the South Carolina Bar Association, 1886 And to-day, "free

1 " Free " absolutely means "free from any sorts constraints or controls. The context determines its different denotations, if any, as in "free press", "free speech", "free stuff" etc.

Learn about the pros and cons of solar leases, PPAs and other programs that claim to offer free solar panels. Find out the hidden costs, risks

What is the opposite of free as in "free of charge" (when we speak about prices)? We can add not for negation, but I am looking for a single word.

A solar and battery storage let you generate and use your own energy (which is free) and avoid paying your utility company so much. Together you can lower your electric bill by up to 90%.

Similarly, "free education" is funded by the state (which is ultimately financed by taxpayers) and taught in state-run schools called state schools whereas schools that charge tuition
